

Master of Information Systems (MIS) Program Student Learning Outcomes

1. Students will be able to design and plan for the development of an information system to address the needs of an organization.
2. Students will be able to create the plans required for key roles, resources, operational metrics and risk responses needed to implement and maintain information systems within an organization.
3. Students will be able to develop methods and tools for communication to facilitate the satisfactory completion of processes required to manage IT resources.
4. Students will be able to generate the vision, direction and strategic purpose for the creation of an information systems project.
5. Students will be able to construct a plan to verify that the regulations, compliance and security issues within an organization are addressed.
6. Students will be able to explain and develop an effective IT project plan meeting professional standards.