Prepare to take on leadership roles and build upon your advanced nursing skills with our MSN/Nurse Administration program. This CCNE accredited (www.phoenix.edu/about_us/accreditation.html) program prepares you to step up into administration with courses that cover topics like nursing theory, coaching and mentoring nursing staff and the nurse leader’s role during organizational change.

You can complete the program one class at a time, allowing you to work toward your career goals on a schedule that’s more manageable. And rest assured that you’re receiving a quality education with courses that are aligned with leading industry organizations such as the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN®), American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) and Quality and Safety Education for Nurses (QSEN).

Upon completion of the our MSN/Nurse Administration program, graduates that have the required practice experience will be prepared to sit for the American Nurses Credentialing Centers Nurse Executive – Board Certification (NE-BC) exam.

We also help RN’s with bachelor degrees in unrelated fields earn their MSN more quickly with our Nursing Bridge program (www.phoenix.edu/colleges_divisions/nursing/programs/nursing_bridge.html). Learn more about the MSN/Nurse Administration program, including course options, learning objectives and tuition, in the information provided below.

Objectives

The Master of Science in Nursing with a concentration in Nursing Administration (MSN/ADM) program prepares registered nurses to become leaders in the field of Nursing Administration. Advanced nursing theory and research provide the foundation for nurse leaders to influence the future of nursing and health care. Specialty Administration courses allow students to focus on contemporary industry-required competencies such as: leadership and management within and between diverse healthcare organizations; communication, collaboration, and relationship management within interprofessional teams; systems thinking and design as a means to improve quality, safety, patient outcomes, and reduce risk.

The Master of Science in Nursing programs at the University of Phoenix are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education http://www.aacn.nche.edu/ccne-accreditation.
