Near Graduation Terms and Conditions

As a University of Phoenix student who is within 14 to 24 credits of graduating from your associates, bachelor or master's degree program, you are eligible to participate in the University of Phoenix Near Graduation Program.

Here's how the program works.

If you have been out of attendance 1 year or greater as of July 28, 2020 with 14 to 24 credits remaining in your program and you return to your associates, bachelor or master's degree program online or at one of our active markets with a class starting on or between July 28, 2020 and August 31, 2020; you are eligible for this Near Graduation Program and the University will cover half of your tuition costs on courses taken between July 28, 2020 and August 31, 2021.

If you don't meet the above criteria, then we would still love to see you return to the University to earn a degree, but you aren't eligible for this Near Graduation Program.
