

Your step-by-step guide for applying to University of Phoenix

1

Start with the online application

Complete the online application on the University of Phoenix website. There's no application fee, and you don't need to have everything figured out before you begin.

2

Get guidance if you want it

Applicants aren't left to navigate the process on their own. Enrollment representatives are available to answer questions, clarify program options and walk you through what comes next.

3

Confirm what your program requires

Admission requirements vary slightly by degree level and field of study. Once you've chosen a program, you'll review the specific criteria for that path – whether that means verifying prior education, GPA standards or any program-specific documentation.

4

Submit your transcripts

Official transcripts from previous schools are required, but University of Phoenix can often request them on your behalf at no cost. It's one less administrative hurdle to manage.

5

Complete your next steps

After you apply, you'll receive a personalized checklist that outlines any remaining forms or documents needed to finalize your admission.

6

Choose your start date and move forward

With multiple start dates offered throughout the year, you can begin when it actually works for your life. Once your requirements are complete, you'll select your start date and prepare to begin.
