Take the lead. Earn your MBA.

You're a busy professional looking to elevate your career. At University of Phoenix, you can prepare for leadership in your career faster. Complete an on-campus or online MBA program in as little as 18 months. You'll take just one 6-week course at a time, so you can balance work and life on the path to your degree. Then, like more than 180,000 MBA graduates before you, harness the power behind proven management strategies to bring value and expertise to your organization.

In the MBA program, you'll learn to:

- Develop problem-solving skills that guide your business decisions
- Leverage technology to create a competitive advantage
- Evaluate and minimize risks
- Manage and motivate employees toward maximum work performance
- Align business decisions with your organization's values

Your MBA can stand on its own, or it can be combined with a Master of Health Administration. Another option is to customize it with one of five concentrations. Let your MBA degree help you prepare to lead.

Learning outcomes

Along with the knowledge and skills related to the University Learning Goals, students who graduate from the School of Business should gain program-specific knowledge, skills and abilities. Each college or school creates a set of Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLOs) to describe the knowledge, skills or attitudes students will possess upon completion of the program of study. By the time you complete your MBA, you should be able to perform these learning outcomes.

Program accreditation

The MBA has been reaffirmed for accreditation until 2027 by the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP), ensuring the quality of your education.

What does that mean in real life? ACBSP-accredited business programs are committed to quality standards. The quality of the program is continuously benchmarked against specific criteria that prepare students for their industry of choice. Accreditation occurs on a 10-year cycle with regular quality reviews.
