Master of Science in Psychology (Competency Based-DA)

Reach your career goals with a competency-based master's in psychology that you can earn faster – and for less. Learn cognitive and affective processes that drive human experience and behavior in various settings and industries. Gain skills in critical thinking and problem solving. Get equipped to apply research methods behavior evaluation and theoretical principles towards a career that helps others.

Top skills learned in this program:

• Psychology
• Ethical and social responsibility
• Communication
• Scientific mindedness
Master of Science in Psychology (Competency Based-DA)

Projected job growth:

12%
According to Bureau of Labor Statistics

What can you do with a Master's in Psychology degree?

An MSP can prepare you to be a:

- Psychology instructor
- Compliance manager
- Regulatory affairs manager

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, job growth for postsecondary psychology teachers is projected to be faster than average between 2020 and 2030.

The BLS Projected Growth for 2020-2030 is published by the US Bureau of Labor Statistics. This data reflects the BLS’ projections of national (not local) conditions. These data points are not specific to University of Phoenix students or graduates.

Get career coaching, resumé building and interview prep, for life. While outside career advising can cost over $200 an hour, at University of Phoenix it’s built right into your degree at no added cost.

You don’t have to go it alone.

You’ll have a team of advisors invested in your success from day one — dedicated to helping you build your confidence and a personalized career plan you can stick with.

Tools and resources available 24/7/365

We’re a university built for the busy. Build your resumé, prepare for an interview and plan your career — whenever it fits your life, day or night.

Networking & mentorship

Through virtual job fairs and networking with the alumni community, we’ve made it easy to tap into the experience and connections of your peers and colleagues at the University.

Learn more about career support
Requirements and prerequisites

In a competency-based program, you earn competency units by demonstrating your knowledge of a core skill, or competency. Since there are 36 units in this program, one competency equals one unit.

12 Courses

Completion of these courses should provide the confidence and skills needed in this field.

- PSYDA/599: Foundations of Graduate Study in Psychology
- PSYDA/600: Developmental Psychology
- PSYDA/645: Personality Theories
- PSYDA/614: Social Psychology
- PSYDA/620: Multicultural and Social Issues in Psychology
- PSYDA/634: Biological Basis of Behavior
- PSYDA/644: Psychology of Learning and Cognition
- PSYDA/660: Ethics and Professional Issues
- PSYDA/664: Research Methods and Statistics in Psychology
- PSYDA/655: Psychometrics
- PSYDA/650: Psychopathology
- PSYDA/694: Specialty Areas in Applied Psychology

Schedule

Your academic counselor will help schedule your courses for a Master of Psychology (Competency-Based).

What you'll learn

When you earn your online master's in psychology, you'll be equipped with a concrete set of skills you can apply on the job.

Topics covered in this degree include:

- Integrate psychological principles and practice in the context of human interactions
- Assess the implications of psychological research on the human experience
- Evaluate professional considerations related to ethics and diversity
- Synthesize appropriate tactics for personal and professional communication in psychology

Program Purpose Statement

The Master of Science in Psychology is an educational degree program that provides a foundation of knowledge in the field of psychology. This program does not prepare students for any type of professional certification or licensure as a psychologist.
Master of Science in Psychology (Competency Based-DA)

*While widely available, not all programs are available to residents of all states. Please check with a University Enrollment Representative.

Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) projections are not specific to University of Phoenix students or graduates.

This program is not eligible for federal financial aid.