Help drive high school success

Develop high school students with the critical learning skills they'll need as they enter adulthood – earn a Graduate Alternative Pathway/Secondary Education Certificate. This accelerated certificate program is designed for career changers, those on emergency teaching certifications and others who are seeking preparation for teaching licensure in select states. The program focuses on creating strategies that can help prepare teacher candidates to be effective classroom teachers and further develop their teaching experience at the secondary level.

As you move through the certificate program, you'll:

- Design and implement effective secondary classroom instruction
- Apply professional ethics to teaching practices
- Meet the instructional needs of diverse secondary student populations
- Create innovative strategies and incorporate technology into the classroom

You can complete your program online in about one year by taking just one course* a time, so you can balance work and life on the path to your graduate certificate. Students who obtain this certificate can go on to pursue licensure in Alabama, Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Oregon, Texas and West Virginia.

* Courses are one, four, six or 12 weeks long

Program purpose statement

The Graduate Alternative Pathway/Secondary Education Certificate program is intended to prepare students with no prior teaching experience for secondary teacher licensure in Arizona. The program includes a clinical component requiring field experience and student teaching above and beyond program coursework. As state licensure requirements may change frequently, students must contact the Arizona Department of Education to verify current requirements to become a licensed teacher. There may be additional qualifications and/or disqualifications applicable in order to work as a teacher with any local, state or federal entity.

Licensure requirements

This Arizona program also prepares students to pursue licensure in Alabama, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Oregon, Texas and West Virginia. View your state licensure requirements.

The goal of accreditation is to ensure that education provided by institutions of higher education meets acceptable levels of quality. Accreditation is your assurance the University meets quality standards.

Institutional accreditation

Regional accreditation is an institution-level accreditation status granted by one of six U.S. regional accrediting bodies. Accreditation by more than one regional accrediting body is not permitted by the U.S. Department of Education.

University of Phoenix is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC), hlcommission.org. Since 1978, University of Phoenix has been continually accredited by the Higher Learning Commission and its predecessor.
